Highlights included serving over 400 folks through our partnership with Capital Roots NY and the Farm2Libraries project. We also happily accepted donations of fresh produce from local community gardens and shared it out to interested residents. The library had a presence all summer at the Waterford Harbor Farmer's Market, providing library card signups, take and make crafts and other information about library services. We added Notary Public services, and the Hoopla digital content platform to our collections. We also circulated 57 Hotspots to patrons through our partnership with T-Mobile, helping to bridge the broadband gap. And puzzles, lots of puzzles were checked out and enjoyed, including several community ones here at the library.
